ULM NAME USAGE

We are ULM. Please note that there are only two correct versions of our institution's name, the preferred acronym ULM and the full name, the University of Louisiana at Monroe. Any other reference, including Louisiana-Monroe, UL-Monroe, La.-Monroe, LAM, or simply Monroe, are incorrect. Additionally, all women's athletic teams are known simply as Warhawks -- not Lady Warhawks or Lady Hawks.

Claire Clark

Three-Time Academic All-American
 First CoSIDA First Team Academic All-American since 1994
 Sun Belt Female Postgraduate Scholarship Award
 ULM's Top Female Student-Athlete
 Three-Time All-Sun Belt Singles Team
 2011 LSWA Louisiana Player of the Year

Claire Clark had one of the most illustrious careers in the history of the ULM tennis program and capped it with a phenomenal season in 2011. She went 18-1 in singles play her senior season, finishing second all-time only to herself in winning percentage (.947). She and doubles partner Monica Winkel also finished the year with a 19-1 doubles record and a .950 winning percentage, the best in ULM's history.

Her impressive play led the Warhawks to an 18-2 overall record and 17 consecutive wins, the nation's second-longest winning streak, which garnered them a No. 46 national ranking after upsetting No. 73 Mississippi State 6-1. Clark finished her career with just four losses in singles play after going 63-4, and holds the best career winning percentage in the history of the program (.940).

Clark added to her long list of accolades by receiving two of the most prestigious of her career following her senior year. After being just one of 12 ULM students to graduate with a 4.0 cumulative GPA, she was named to the Capital One Academic All-America At-Large First Team, the first Warhawk since 1994 to do so. The honor was the third of her career after landing on the second and third teams her sophomore and freshman years.

She also garnered multiple honors from the Sun Belt Conference including the Sun Belt Female Postgraduate Scholarship Award, which is one of the league's most prestigious. Her athletic achievements were again recognized as an All-Sun Belt Singles and Doubles Team selection and was the third time in her career she earned an All-Sun Belt nod. Additionally, Clark was named the Louisiana Sports Writer's Association Louisiana Player of the Year and picked up her third-straight All-Louisiana First Team Selection.

Program History

All-Americans and Hall of Famers line the annals of the Warhawk tennis program, making it one of the oldest and most history-rich of ULM's athletic teams. Starting with an undefeated 1973-74 campaign and running through the program's entrance into the Sun Belt Conference, the Warhawks have posted double-digit wins in 24 campaigns, finished with a winning record 22 times, and claimed a conference championship on seven different occasions.

The first NCAA women's squad of any sport on campus, the tennis team started strong. In the program's first five seasons the team went a combined 72-14. The United States Tennis Association (USTA) and Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women (AIAW) took notice and before the program had reached its 10th birthday, ULM had become a mainstay in the national rankings.

Competing as an independent, ULM took another step forward in the 1978 season when Sherry Dunkin [pictured top left] became the program's first All-American following a 41-12 campaign. Dunkin became the first female student-athlete in any sport at ULM to garner the honor. Six years later Maria Lindstrom [pictured top right] posted a 31-5 record at number one singles and claimed the Southland Conference title to become the program's second All-American.

Dunkin provided another first for the program and became the first female student-athlete in the ULM Athletics Hall of Fame when she was inducted in 1988. Ten years later, Dunkin was joined by Brenda Hook - the program's all-time singles victories leader (156) and driving force behind four-consecutive AIAW top 20 rankings - in the school's hall of fame.

Dunkin, Hook, and three former male student-athletes (Jose Alvarez, Terry Moor, and Phil Trahan) in the five-person tennis contingent in the 100-plus member ULM Athletics Hall of Fame. Nine total former female student-athletes have garnered the honor at ULM, with the two from tennis representing the third-highest total for a single team, trailing only the three honorees from each the women's basketball team and track & field squads.

In 25 seasons in the Southland Conference, the Warhawk tennis squad finished outside of the top three in the league's standings on only five occasions. ULM claimed one postseason tournament and six regular season championships as a member of the league and represented the conference in the 2003 NCAA Tournament.

ULM honored this storied history - recognizing the program's 'founding father' and first coach, Dr. Dwight Vines - in a reunion in October of 2008. Featuring 45 former student-athletes, as well as the current Warhawk tennis squad, the three-day event helped bridge the gap between the team's of the past and present, while energizing the program as it began its push back to national prominence.

NOTE: The format of tennis competition changed in 1999 from individual to team based to reflect format change in the NCAA Tournament. Prior to 1999, ULM earned 42 individual championships in the Southland Conference, more than double any other school in the league's history. ULM also holds the record for team regular season championships at six.
